2015 POSTSEASON GUIDE

MEET THE REDSKINS: POSITION GUIDE

Quarterbacks (3)

"It's Kirk's team."

With that public proclamation of faith from Head Coach Jay Gruden on Aug. 31, quarterback Kirk Cousins embarked upon one of the most remarkable passing seasons in Redskins history, both in terms of his statistics and the redemption story that accompanied them.

Under the guidance of Gruden, Offensive Coordinator Sean McVay and Quarterbacks Coach Matt Cavanaugh, Cousins set team records in passing yards (4,166), attempts (543), completions (379) and 300-yard passing games (seven). Cousins moved the ball through the air efficiently, completing 69.8 percent of passes for the second-highest completion percentage in Redskins history (eighth-best in NFL history) and recording the third-highest passer rating in franchise history (101.6).

In the Redskins' final 10 games, Cousins guided the Redskins to a 7-3 record, throwing for 274 yards per game with 23 touchdowns and only three interceptions en route to an NFC East title. Cousins' hot hand helped the Redskins average 32.8 points per game during a four-game winning streak to close the regular season, most in the NFL in that time frame. He became the first player in team history to throw a touchdown pass in all 16 games in a season since the advent of the 16-game schedule in 1978.

In addition, despite not being known as the true dual threat in his own position group, Cousins added a team-high five rushing touchdowns in 2015, the second-most by a quarterback in a season in team history.

The Redskins roster also includes Colt McCoy, who led a memorable Monday night upset in Dallas in October 2014, and former 2012 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year Robert Griffin III.

Running Backs/Fullbacks (5)

Early in the season, the Redskins appeared to have a two-headed monster at running back. Running Backs Coach Randy Jordan oversaw "MoJo," the nickname given to the duo of fourth-year workhorse Alfred Morris and 2015 third-round pick Matt Jones. The duo each produced a 100-yard rushing day in the first two weeks, with Morris gaining 121 yards in Week 1 vs. Miami and Jones recording 123 yards in Week 2 vs. St. Louis.

While Morris and Jones carried the unit on early downs, third-year back Chris Thompson played a critical role in the Redskins' substantial improvement on third downs in 2015. In addition to his contributions in pass protection, the diminutive speedster posted career highs in carries (35), rushing yards (216), receptions (35), receiving yards (240) and receiving touchdowns (two).

Thompson missed part of December with a shoulder injury, at which point the Redskins turned to veteran Pierre Thomas, a former Super Bowl champion in New Orleans, to step in and contribute immediately. Often praised by the coaching staff for his professionalism and intelligence, Thomas caught seven passes for 67 yards in the team's division-clinching win at Philadelphia in Week 17. Thomas added an extra set of capable hands to a now deep Redskins backfield.

"We just added another back [Thomas] to our rotation, which kind of muddies it up a little bit, but, you know, having too many good backs is a good thing," Gruden said.

Fullback Darrel Young, a converted linebacker from Villanova now in his sixth NFL season, rounds out the group. Though his usage was limited in 2015, Young has accounted for 13 combined rushing and receiving touchdowns during his time in Washington and was a critical lead blocker for Morris' three 1,000-yard seasons across the 2012-14 seasons.

Wide Receivers (5)

The group led by Wide Receivers Coach Ike Hillard received a substantial boost in Week 9 when DeSean Jackson returned to the lineup after missing the majority of the first seven games of the season with hamstring injury he suffered in the early minutes of the season opener. Jackson caught 30 passes for 528 yards with four receiving touchdowns in 2015, with all four displaying the Cal product's trademark explosiveness. Jackson scored on touchdown passes of 77 yards (Week 15), 63 yards (Week 12), 56 yards (Week 11) and 28 yards (Week 13), the first three of which accounted for three of the five longest gains of the season for Washington.

Quarterbacks Coach Matt Cavanaugh and QB Kirk Cousins

Jackson's counterpart, Pierre Garçon, led the receivers with 72 receptions for 777 yards and tied his career high with six receiving touchdowns. Now in his third season in Washington, Garçon surged down the stretch as the Redskins won four straight to take the NFC East title, catching a touchdown pass in each of the Redskins' final three games of the season.

The Redskins selected Jamison Crowder in the fourth round of the 2015 NFL Draft hoping to at least secure an impact returner. Crowder instead carved out a much larger role, earning the team's slot receiver role and setting the team's rookie record for receptions (59). Crowder posted a career day in the team's Week 17 finale at Dallas, catching the 28-yard pass on which Cousins broke the team's single-season passing record in the midst of the first career 100-yard receiving day for the rookie.

The group also features a pair of second-year pass catchers who have contributed when called upon. Ryan Grant, a favorite of Gruden's for his precise route running, posted career highs with 23 receptions for 268 yards with two receiving touchdowns. Rashad Ross made the team after leading the NFL in every major receiving category in the 2015 preseason. He scored on a reception (Week 17 at Dallas), a kickoff return (Week 3 at New York Giants) and a blocked punt recovery (Week 6 at New York Jets) in 2015.

Tight Ends (3)

By the time the Redskins clinched the NFC East title in Week 16, teammates, coaches, fans, journalists and observers alike had all start to run out of adjectives to describe the play of Jordan Reed in 2015.

The third-year tight end posted one of the finest seasons by a tight end in team history, setting franchise marks by a tight end in receptions (87) and receiving yards (952) and coming within one touchdown (11) of the team record for receiving touchdowns (12). Reed's rapid growth into one of the league's elite pass-catching tight ends is remarkable when underscored by the fact that he began his college career at the University of Florida as a quarterback. He recorded four multi-touchdown games, tied with Redskins legend Jerry Smith for most by a tight end in a single season, helping the Redskins to a 4-0 record in those contests.

Beyond his natural ability as a route runner and pass catcher, Reed focused on becoming a more complete tight end in 2015. He has relied upon the expertise of Tight Ends Coach Wes Phillips, who previously tutored Jason Witten during his time coaching in Dallas. Phillips helped mold and mentor a group that lost two-thirds of its projected group early in the preseason when long-time contributors Niles Paul and Logan Paulsen suffered season-ending injuries in August.

The Redskins added 11-year veteran Alex Smith, who played for Gruden in Cincinnati, as a free agent late in the season. The team also signed promising prospect Marcel Jensen away from the Bills' practice squad in December. Tackle Tom Compton also frequently enters games as the team's eligible third tight end.

Offensive Line Coach Bill Callahan and C Kory Lichtensteiger

Offensive Line (9)

Despite featuring one of the game's top talents and consistently turning out top rushing performances over the last several seasons, the Redskins' offensive line entered the 2015 season a much maligned group. The team made one of its most impactful additions of the offseason in January when it lured noted line guru Bill Callahan to oversee the unit in 2015.

The line blossomed under Callahan's watch, mixing and matching young talent and eventually shaving 31 sacks off of their season total from a year ago, the largest single-year turnaround in team history since sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982.

The group was anchored yet again by left tackle Trent Williams, whom the Redskins made the highest-paid tackle in football upon agreeing to a multi-year extension during the 2015 preseason. Williams earned his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl berth in 2015, joining team legends Chris Samuels and Joe Jacoby as the only Redskins tackles to make four consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl since the merger.

"I think he's already established himself as the top tackle in the game. Heck, we paid him for it," Gruden joked with a chuckle in December. "Off the field, man, he's just one of those guys that… I've really been impressed with the way he's worked this year with Coach Callahan. I think when you're as good as he is and you bring in a new coach with a new set of rules and work ethic and all that stuff — not to say we didn't have a work ethic before — but sometimes, guys are resistant to change. He's been excellent about it. He's worked very hard. He's kept his weight down and played extremely well. I think the younger linemen like [Brandon] Scherff and [Spencer] Long and [Morgan] Moses, they all look up to him and it's been a great situation for everybody with him as a leader."

Williams, the team's offensive captain, was indeed a paradigm for his young cohorts to follow. The team invested the fifth overall pick of the 2015 NFL Draft in guard Brandon Scherff, who became only the third Redskins offensive lineman to appear in 16 games as a rookie. Scherff formed a young but promising right side of the offensive line with tackle Morgan Moses, a 2014 third-round pick whose progression in training camp locked down the right tackle position and helped facilitate Scherff's move to the interior.

The Redskins have received major, if unexpected, contributions at the other two positions. Spencer Long started 13 games at left guard following an injury to original starter Shawn Lauvao. Center Josh LeRibeus, a converted guard, stepped in and started 11 games in place of veteran Kory Lichtensteiger, the line's cerebral leader who was activated during NFC Wild Card week and is available to return this postseason after spending the second half of the year on Injured Reserve with a designation to return.

The Redskins' offensive line also includes 2015 fourth-round pick Arie Kouandjio at guard and hulking 6-foot-8 tackle Ty Nsekhe. Tackle Tom Compton contributes at tackle in addition to frequently serving as an eligible receiver in three-tight-end sets.

Defensive Line (6)

Washington's defensive line played an intricate part in the defense's success during the Redskins' 4-0 run in the final quarter of the 2015 regular season. Behind Defensive Line Coach Robb Akey, the self-named "Capital Punishment" group contributed to a defense that registered 26 takeaways, third-most in the NFL, across Weeks 4-17 this season.

Defensive end Chris Baker spearheaded the group with single-season career highs in sacks (six), forced fumbles (three) and fumble recoveries (two). A unique unit needs the right mixture of ingredients to include talent and a pinch of veteran leadership. According to coaches' film statistics, NFL veteran defensive end Jason Hatcher led the unit with a combined 32 quarterback hurries and knockdowns while gathering a pair of sacks. Baker and Hatcher's play complemented the production of nose tackle Terrance Knighton.

Ricky Jean Francois and Kedric Golston added veteran depth on the defensive line, fueling Gruden's enthusiasm about the unit "That's what I like about our D-Line. I feel like we can keep them fresh and rotate them in there to make sure they all get a crack at it," said Gruden. Jean Francois chipped in a pair of sacks and Golston was key on a number of goal-line and short-yardage stands.

Frank Kearse recorded a sack appearing in four games in 2015. Stephen Paea, the seventh member of the group, suffered a season-ending injury after collecting 1.5 sacks, a forced fumble and 24 tackles.

Linebackers (9)

Linebackers Coach Kirk Olivadotti orchestrated a group that features a veteran climbing the ranks in Redskins lore and a rookie etching his name in the record books as well. The corps was led by outside linebacker Ryan Kerrigan's 9.5 sacks, which pushed his career total to 47.5 sacks, currently third all-time in Redskins history since sacks became an official statistic in 1982. Kerrigan became only the fifth NFL player since 1982 to open a career with five consecutive 7.5-sack seasons, joining Jared Allen, Derrick Thomas, DeMarcus Ware and Reggie White.

Outside linebacker Preston Smith followed with 8.0 sacks in 2015, passing Kerrigan for second-most sacks by a rookie in team history. Smith also led all NFL rookies in sacks in 2015 while helping clinch the NFC East Division title with a three-sack performance in Washington's 38-24 win at Philadelphia in Week 16. The career numbers and milestones were contagious, as second-year outside linebacker Trent Murphy also earned a career high in sacks (3.5).

They say good things come in pairs, and for Washington, a pair of tandems at the inside linebacker position helped serve as the catalyst for the Redskins' success in 2015. Will Compton, a former 2013 college free agent turned starter, has emerged to play a vital role in the defense's run-stopping ability down the stretch. Compton was credited by coaches' film review with 122 tackles and posted his first career sack in Week 16 and first career interception in Week 17 to conclude the 2015 regular season. Sharing the interior alongside Compton, Mason Foster contributed 38 tackles after the Redskins acquired the free agent following Week 3.

Early in the season, Keenan Robinson and Perry Riley, Jr. served as the starting inside duo before battling injuries for significant portions of the season. Robinson was second on the team in tackles before suffering an injury which rendered him inactive for three weeks and sidelined for another. Riley recorded a career high in interceptions in a season (two) before being inactive with a foot injury for the final five games of the regular season.

Linebackers Houston Bates and Carlos Fields played limited reps on defense but played a critical role on special teams.

Defensive Backs (10)

If there is a group that lived up to Gruden's "Next Man Up" mentality and Defensive Coordinator Joe Barry's "Starters in Waiting" ethos, it was the defensive backs. Guided by Defensive Backs Coach Perry Fewell, the secondary overcame adversity, turnover, injuries and multiple position changes to solidify the back end despite a rotating cast of characters seemingly every week.

Veteran free safety Dashon Goldson was named team captain in his first season with Washington and led the team in tackles. Goldson also returned his only interception of the year for a 35-yard touchdown vs. New Orleans in Week 10 to give the defense its first of two touchdowns in 2015. Coaches have praised his intelligence and work ethic in helping lead the unit this season.

DeAngelo Hall transitioned from starting cornerback to starting safety during the 2015 season. Hall used the time missed from suffering a toe injury in Week 3 to learn the position. In Week 16, in his new position, Hall recorded a fumble return touchdown at Philadelphia to became the first NFL player to record at least five interception returns for touchdowns and five fumble recoveries for touchdowns in a career.

Cornerbacks Bashaud Breeland and Will Blackmon have served as the Redskins' starting cornerbacks for the majority of the season, which would have seemed far-fetched in Week 1 when Breeland was penciled in as the third cornerback and Blackmon was still a free agent. With injuries to Hall and Chris Culliver (now on Reserve/Injured), Breeland moved into the starting role and continues to ascend as one of the league's emerging players at the position, highlighted by a Week 6 game at the New York Jets in which he posted an interception and two fumble recoveries. Blackmon, a nine-year veteran signed in Week 2, added a sack and tallied career highs in a season with two interceptions and three forced fumbles.

The Redskins will try to recreate Blackmon's instant success with veteran Cary Williams, whom the team signed on Jan. 5 in preparation for the NFC Wild Card Round. Williams joined the Redskins having previously appeared in 97 career games (75 starts) and having posted nine career interceptions. He was a 16-game starter on the Baltimore Ravens' Super Bowl XLVII championship team in 2012.

Of all the unlikely stories in the defensive backfield, perhaps none were more unbelievable than that of rookie cornerback Quinton Dunbar. After converting from wide receiver during a injury-filled stretch of training camp for the Redskins in 2015, Dunbar took to his new position and recorded his first career interception on a pass into the end zone from two-time Super Bowl MVP Eli Manning. The interception helped seal a home win that pushed Washington atop the NFC East in Week 12.

Fifth-year veteran safety Jeron Johnson, rookie cornerback Deshazor Everett and first-year cornerback Dashaun Phillips have helped the Redskins on special teams, as has midseason-signee cornerback Jeremy Harris, who was promoted from the practice squad during the final week of the regular season. The group will try to ease the loss of rookie defensive back Kyshoen Jarrett, a 2015 sixth-round pick whose versatility at safety and nickel corner was a major component in the unit's ability to succeed despite all of the changes in personnel all year.

Specialists (3)

The Redskins and Special Teams Coordinator Ben Kotwica made a bold move in Week 2, opting to release Kai Forbath, one of the most accurate kickers in team history, in favor of signing Dustin Hopkins, a former 2013 sixth-round pick of the Buffalo Bills who had never appeared in an NFL regular season game prior to 2015.

The move paid major dividends for the Redskins in their run to an NFC East title in 2015. Hopkins posted the third-highest field goal percentage in a season in team history, connecting on 25-of-28 field goal attempts (89.3 percent) with two of his three misses coming from 50-plus yards away. While Hopkins continued the team's recent success on field goals, his big leg on kickoffs was one of the team's most welcomed additions this season. A year after Forbath recorded touchbacks on only 34.6 percent of kickoffs in 2014, Hopkins booted 52 touchbacks on 76 kickoffs (68.4 percent). His distance helped the Redskins finish fourth in the NFL in average kickoff return yards allowed (20.1).

Punter Tress Way was elected as the Redskins' special teams captain for 2015 and followed his tremendous 2014 campaign with another solid year in 2015. Way averaged 48.2 yards per punt in 2015, the fifth-highest average in team history, and averaged 39.8 net yards per punt. He had 21 punts downed inside the 20 with only seven touchbacks.

Long snapper Nick Sundberg snapped in all 16 games again this season, marking the fourth time in the last six years the Cal product snapped in every game in a season.

The Redskins kickoff return unit tied a team record in 2015 by returning two kickoffs for touchdowns during the season. Current returner Rashad Ross scored his first career touchdown on a 101-yard kickoff return — tied for the second-longest return in team history — against the New York Giants in Week 3. Andre Roberts, who was placed on the Reserve/Injured list in December, also added a kickoff return touchdown in Week 11 at Carolina.

- The Redskins made 10 selections in the 2015 NFL Draft. The 10 selections mark the fourth time in five years that the Redskins have selected at least eight players (2011, 2012, 2014 and 2015).
- The Redskins were one of six teams to make at least 10 selections during the 2015 NFL Draft.
- The Redskins made seven selections on Day 3, marking only the third time since the draft moved to seven rounds in 1994 that the Redskins have made seven or more selections in Rounds 4-7 (nine in 2011; seven in 2012).
- The Redskins have now selected 46 players in the past five drafts, the franchise's largest five-year total since the institution of the seven-round draft in 1994. The team last posted a five-year total of 46 across the 1990-94 NFL Drafts, a time frame which included three 12-round drafts, one eight-round draft and one seven-round draft.
- The Redskins have made at least seven selections in five consecutive drafts for the first time since 1991-95.
- The Redskins selected three players in Round 6, marking the first time the team has made three sixth-round selections since 2008.
- The Redskins made two trades during the 2015 NFL Draft. On Friday, the team sent the No. 69 overall pick to the Seattle Seahawks in exchange for the Nos. 95, 112, 167 and 181 overall picks. All-Time Postseason Index and Game Summaries

POSTSEASON INDEX

Since the team was founded as the Boston Braves in 1932, the Redskins franchise has played 41 postseason games in the team's history spanning nine decades. The Redskins are 23-18 in postseason contests and have won five league championships (two NFL titles, three Super Bowl titles).

The Redskins' postseason debut came on Dec. 13, 1936, in the team's final game as the Boston Redskins. Owner George Preston Marshall moved the game from their home field at Fenway Park to a neutral location at Polo Grounds in New York. A year later in the team's first season in Washington, the Eastern Division champion Washington Redskins defeated the Chicago Bears, 28-21, at Wrigley Field in Chicago for the team's first league championship.

The Redskins would win another NFL title after the 1942 season and later earned Super Bowl titles following the 1982, 1987 and 1991 seasons.

Of the Redskins' 23 all-time postseason wins, 20 of them have come since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger, tied for the sixth-most in league history entering the 2015 season. Washington's .588 postseason winning percentage in that time frame ranks eighth in the NFL.

The Redskins' postseason record includes a 13-3 mark in playoff games played at home (not including the 1936 NFL Championship moved to New York). Washington was 1-1 in playoff games at Griffith Stadium, 12-1 at RFK Stadium and is currently 1-1 at FedExField.

Jay Gruden

Head Coach

12th NFL Season // 2nd with Redskins

Jay Gruden is entering his second season with the Washington Redskins in 2015 after being named the 29th head coach in franchise history on January 9, 2014.

Previously a decorated quarterback in the college and Arena Football League ranks and a successful NFL assistant, Gruden assumed control of the Redskins in 2014 and guided the team through a campaign in which three different quarterbacks (Robert Griffin III, Kirk Cousins and Colt McCoy) recorded victories as starters. He installed an offensive system that helped the Redskins to team records in completions (364) and completion percentage (66.5) and helped produce two Pro Bowlers in his first season, earning repeat berths for tackle Trent Williams and running back Alfred Morris.

Excluding interim coaches, Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the team's youngest head coaching hire since hiring eventual Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Gibbs at 40 years of age in 1981. He became the first Redskins coach hired directly from an offensive coordinator role on another team since Norv Turner in 1994.

Before joining the Redskins, Gruden spent his previous three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his tenure in Cincinnati, the Bengals averaged 10 wins a season, making three consecutive playoff appearances and earning an AFC North championship in 2013. Members of the Bengals' offense accounted for seven Pro Bowl selections in his three seasons in Cincinnati.

Gruden was tasked with the development of quarterback Andy Dalton, a 2011 second-round pick. In three seasons together, Gruden helped Dalton to a 30-18 regular season record as a starter (.625), as Dalton's 30 wins in that time frame ranked tied for fifth-most among NFL quarterbacks. Dalton's 80 passing touchdowns rank third-most in NFL history for a quarterback in his first three seasons, trailing only Dan Marino (98) and Peyton Manning (85).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Gruden served two years with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League from 2009-10. In 2009, Gruden served as offensive coordinator as the Tuskers compiled a 6-0 regular season record and earned a UFL championship game berth. In 2010, he assumed the roles of head coach and general manager and led the Tuskers to their second consecutive championship game appearance.

Gruden coached for seven seasons (2002-08) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, earning a Super Bowl championship ring as an offensive assistant in 2002. There he worked under his brother, Jon, then the Bucs' head coach, and current Redskins President Bruce Allen, the Bucs' general manager from 2004-08. Gruden helped guide the Buccaneers to the team's first league championship, a 48-21 victory in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Gruden also ranks among the most outstanding players and coaches in the history of the Arena Football League, having won six combined league championships – four as a quarterback and two as a head coach. Gruden played quarterback (2002-03) and served as head coach (2004-08) of the AFL's Orlando Predators, all while simultaneously working as an offensive assistant with the Buccaneers. In all, Gruden served as head coach of the Predators for nine seasons (1998-2001 and 2004-08), leading the Predators to four championship game appearances and two league titles as a coach. During a two-year hiatus from coaching the Predators in 2002-03, he returned to the playing field as Orlando's quarterback, leading the Predators to playoff appearances in both seasons.

In his eight seasons as a player in the AFL, Gruden completed 1,673-of-2,775 passes (60.3 percent) for 21,578 yards with 398 touchdowns and 99 interceptions. In addition to his time with Orlando, he spent six seasons (1991-96) at quarterback for the Tampa Bay Storm, winning four AFL titles and being named MVP of ArenaBowl VII in 1993. He was also named the 1992 AFL Most Valuable Player and was honored with induction into the AFL Hall of Fame in 1999.

Gruden played quarterback for four seasons for former Redskins draft pick Howard Schnellenberger at the University of Louisville (1985-88) and was a two-time team MVP.

Gruden was born March 4, 1967 in Tiffin, Ohio. He and his wife, Sherry, have three sons — J.J., Joey and Jack.

Ben Kotwica

Special Teams Coordinator

9th NFL Season // 2nd with Redskins

Ben Kotwica was named as the Redskins' special teams coordinator on January 15, 2014.

Kotwica is entering his ninth NFL season and his second with the Redskins in 2015 after spending the first seven years of his NFL career in various coaching capacities with the New York Jets. Before assuming the role of coordinator for the Jets in 2013, Kotwica assisted with the Jets' special teams in multiple roles across the 2007-12 seasons.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Kotwica's tutelage and eye for talent helped first-year punter Tress Way (47.5 yards per punt) become the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958. Way's average ranked fourth in team history, a feat he accomplished in a season in which he was given 10 days to earn the punting job after being claimed off waivers late in the preseason. Kotwica also helped kicker Kai Forbath successfully convert 24-of-27 field goals (88.9 percent) in 2014, the third-highest percentage in a single season in franchise history.

Prior to Kotwica's arrival in Washington, the Jets accounted for 10 combined kick and punt return touchdowns during his time as an assistant in New York, tied for most in the AFC and tied for second-most in the NFL. The Jets averaged a league-best 24.6 yards per kick return in those six seasons and had a kick returner finish in the Top 5 in the NFL in kick return four times (Joe McKnight, 2012; Joe McKnight, 2011; Brad Smith, 2010; and Leon Washington, 2007). Kotwica helped Leon Washington earn his first career Pro Bowl berth as a kick returner following the 2008 season.

In addition to his football career, Kotwica's background includes his time as a decorated officer who spent eight years in the United States Army after graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His military career included operations in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Korea and Iraq.

Sean McVay

Offensive Coordinator

7th NFL Season // 6th with Redskins

Sean McVay was named the Redskins' offensive coordinator on January 15, 2014. McVay enters the 2015 season in his second season as the team's offensive coordinator after spending three seasons as the team's tight ends coach (2011-13) and one as an offensive assistant (2010).

In his first season as Offensive Coordinator in 2014, McVay helped the offense to a top 10 league ranking in yards per play (5.7) despite starting three different quarterbacks. His work with the three passers was instrumental in setting a team record for completion percentage (66.5 percent) and helped facilitate the explosive debut season of wide receiver DeSean Jackson, who averaged a league-best 20.9 yards per reception and became only the fourth player in team history to lead the NFL in that category.

In 2013, McVay played a crucial role in the development of rookie tight end Jordan Reed, who compiled 45 receptions for 499 yards – both Redskins' single-season rookie tight end records – despite Reed playing in only nine games. Under McVay's tutelage, Reed joined Chris Cooley (2004) as the only Redskins tight ends named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team. In addition, McVay helped tight end Logan Paulsen from an undrafted free agent into a 30-game starter from 2010-13, with Paulsen increasing his reception totals each season.

During Washington's NFC East championship season in 2012, McVay's unit produced despite losing starting tight end Fred Davis to a torn Achilles tendon in Week 7. Davis had led the team in both receptions (24) and receiving yards (325) through seven games before being placed on the Reserve/Injured list. McVay guided a unit that provided reliable receiving options on top of contributing significantly as blockers to the Redskins' league-leading 2,709 rushing yards.

In 2011, McVay played an integral role in Davis' emergence, as the then-fourth-year tight end surpassed his previous career highs despite playing in only 12 games. Davis caught 59 passes for 796 yards, the second-highest total on the team in both categories. Before missing the final four games of the season, Davis was on pace to set a franchise record in receiving yards by a tight end and was on pace to post the first 1,000-yard receiving season by a tight end in Redskins history.

McVay served as an offensive assistant to the Redskins in 2010, in addition to working with the tight ends during the final four weeks of the season following coach Jon Embree's departure. The Redskins offense ranked eighth in the NFL in passing yards per game (244.6) and tight end Chris Cooley ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions (77) and third in receiving yards (849). The offensive unit also set a franchise record for completions in a season (349), and registered a touchdown pass in 15 consecutive games for the first time in team history. The Redskins' offense led the NFL with nine completions of at least 50 yards, including one in four consecutive games for the first time since 1987.

McVay joined the Redskins prior to the 2010 season after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League (UFL). The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay served as the Tuskers tight ends coach in addition to working closely with the team's running backs. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008.

During his time in Tampa Bay, McVay worked closely with wide receiver Antonio Bryant, who recorded career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (1,248), and touchdowns (seven), en route to winning The Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year Award.

McVay graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where he played wide receiver from 2004-07, earning Miami's Scholar-Athlete Award in 2007. His grandfather, John, served in various roles – including vice president/director of football operations from 1983-94 – for the San Francisco 49ers from 1979-95, overseeing five Super Bowl championship squads and earning induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

Perry Fewell

Defensive Backs

18th NFL Season // 1st with Redskins

The Washington Redskins named Perry Fewell as the team's defensive backs coach on January 27, 2015.

Fewell is entering his 18th NFL season in 2015 after having spent the last five seasons as defensive coordinator of the New York Giants, a stint that included a 21-17 victory over the New England Patriots in Super Bowl XLVI. In Fewell's five seasons in New York from 2010-14, his unit amassed 160 takeaways, second-most in the NFC and third-most in the NFL.

During the team's Super Bowl campaign in 2011, the Giants were fourth in the NFL in both takeaways (35) and turnover differential (plus-14). In four postseason victories that year, the Giants allowed an average of 14.0 points per game, joining the 2000 Baltimore Ravens as the only team since the turn of the century to allow 14 or fewer points per game in a postseason run requiring all four rounds.

Prior to joining the Giants, Fewell spent four seasons as the Buffalo Bills' defensive coordinator from 2006-09. He was the team's interim head coach for the final seven games of the 2009 season, earning three wins. In 2009, his guidance helped rookie safety Jairus Byrd tie for the NFL lead with nine interceptions in only 14 games and helped Byrd become the first Bills rookie to be selected to the Pro Bowl since Greg Bell in 1984.

Fewell coached defensive backs for the Chicago Bears in 2005 when the Bears led the NFC with 24 interceptions and cornerback Nathan Vasher and safety Mike Brown were both selected to the Pro Bowl. Fewell had previously served as secondary coach of the St. Louis Rams from 2003-04.

Fewell entered the NFL as the defensive backs coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 1998, a position he held through the 2002 season. Jacksonville's pass defense ranked third in the NFL during a 14-2 season in 1999.

Fewell spent 13 years coaching at the collegiate level prior to entering the NFL. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of North Carolina from 1985-86. He was the defensive backs coach at Army in 1987, and the following year, he began a four-year stint as the wide receivers coach at Kent State. In 1992, he returned to West Point, where he spent three seasons as the defensive line coach. Fewell's final college job was at Vanderbilt, where he coached the secondary from 1995-97 and was also assistant head coach in his final season there.

Fewell lettered as a defensive back at Lenoir-Rhyne (N.C.) from 1980-83 and was part of the university's Hall of Fame class in 2011. A native of Gastonia, N.C., he was on the football and track teams at South Point H.S. in Belmont, N.C., and was inducted into the Belmont Sports Hall of Fame in 2001. He also earned induction into the Gaston County, N.C. Hall of Fame in June 2012.

Ike Hilliard

17th NFL Season // 3rd with Redskins

Ike Hilliard returned for his second stint as the Redskins' wide receivers coach on January 20, 2014.

In his return to Washington in 2014, Hilliard oversaw the incorporation of free agent signing DeSean Jackson into the team's offense. Jackson led the Redskins with 1,169 receiving yards on 56 receptions, becoming the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington (Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005). Jackson averaged an NFL-best 20.9 yards per reception and was the first member of the Redskins to finish a season as the NFL leader in yards per reception since Henry Ellard (19.5 in 1996).

Hilliard served as wide receivers coach for the Buffalo Bills in 2013, helping mold a young group that included rookie second-round pick Robert Woods (40 receptions for 587 yards with three touchdowns) and rookie third-round pick Marquise Goodwin (17 receptions for 283 yards with three touchdowns).

In his first stint with the Redskins in 2012, Hilliard guided the team's receivers to the franchise's first division title since 1999. He integrated free agents Pierre Garçon and Joshua Morgan into the offense, helping Garçon lead the team in receiving yards (633 in only 10 games) and helping Morgan lead the Redskins in receptions (48). Hilliard also oversaw the resurgence of veteran slot receiver Santana Moss, who caught 41 passes for 573 yards and eight touchdowns, his most since recording nine receiving touchdowns in his first season in Washington in 2005. The group's toughness on the perimeter also helped the offense rush for a league-best 2,709 yards, a franchise record.

In 2011, Hilliard served as the assistant wide receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins. He helped in the development of wide receiver Brandon Marshall, who was selected for his third Pro Bowl and first as a member of the Dolphins. Additionally, Marshall finished third in the AFC in receiving yards with 1,214 and recorded his fifth-consecutive 1,000-plus yard season.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Hilliard spent two seasons coaching for the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League. Hilliard worked as a volunteer coach with the Tuskers in 2009 under current Redskins Defensive Coordinator Jim Haslett, who served as the team's head coach. Hilliard was elevated to the position of Receivers Coach for 2010 under current Redskins Head Coach Jay Gruden.

As a player, Hilliard was a first-round selection in the 1997 NFL Draft (No. 7 overall). He played 12 seasons, eight with the New York Giants (1997-2004) and four with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2005-08). In 161 career games (106 starts), Hilliard caught 546 passes for 6,397 yards and 35 touchdowns.

Hilliard played collegiately at the University of Florida from 1994-96, catching 126 passes for 2,214 yards and 26 touchdowns. He earned first-team All-SEC and All-America honors as a junior and, in the final game of the season, finished with seven catches for 150 yards and three touchdowns in leading the Gators to a 52-20 Sugar Bowl win to secure the school's first national championship.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Jordan helped running back Alfred Morris earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl berth, making Morris the first Redskins running back selected to consecutive Pro Bowls since Stephen Davis in 1999-2000. Morris posted joined Davis as the only backs in tema history to record three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Jordan's work was also evident in the play of fullback Darrel Young, who matched his career highs in rushing touchdowns (three) and receiving touchdowns (two) en route to a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014.

Before joining the Redskins, Jordan spent two years as the running backs coach at the University of North Carolina. In his first season with UNC in 2012, Jordan's Tar Heels averaged 193.8 rushing yards per game, third-most in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the program's highest average since 1994. That season, he tutored tailback Giovani Bernard – who played for current Redskins Head Coach Jay Gruden in Cincinnati in 2013 – to one of the best seasons in UNC history, helping Bernard average 122.8 rushing yards per game, most in the ACC and 11th in the nation.

Jordan was part of an offensive staff that helped Carolina set more than 35 school records, including total points, points per game and total offense.

Jordan coached running backs at Texas A&M for four seasons from 2008-11. In 2011, the Aggies averaged 199.1 rushing yards per game, fourth-most in the Big 12 Conference, and had two different backs – Cyrus Gray and Christine Michael – finish among the top five in the conference in rushing yards per game. Under Jordan's tutelage, Gray was a three-time All-Big 12 performer and exiting ranking third in conference history in all-purpose yards.

Jordan came to Aggieland from the University of Nebraska where he served as the running backs coach for the Cornhuskers from 2004-07. Jordan helped shape the I-back position, coaching two 1,000-yard rushers in Cody Ross in 2004 and Marlon Lucky in 2007. He oversaw a committee of backs in 2006 that produced nearly 2,400 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns, as an improved effort on the ground helped NU move from 107th in 2005 to 23rd nationally in rushing offense in 2006.

Jordan began his coaching career with the Oakland Raiders as a special teams assistant midway through the 2003 season. He played nine years in the NFL as a running back, playing in 122 career games from 1993 through 2002. He began his career with the Los Angeles Raiders before joining the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995 and playing three seasons. Jordan holds the distinction of scoring the very first touchdown for the Jacksonville club, a 71-yard reception against Cincinnati in 1995.

After the 1997 season, Jordan rejoined the Raiders' organization where he played five more seasons. In 1998, Jordan rushed for 159 yards for the Raiders. He had a career-high 213 yards rushing and three touchdowns in helping the Raiders reach the AFC Championship Game in 2000. He also caught 27 passes for 299 yards and a touchdown that same season.

Jordan finished his career with 574 yards rushing and seven touchdowns, while making 58 catches for 596 yards and two touchdowns. Jordan was also a standout special teams player. He finished his career with 801 yards on 38 career kick returns, including a season best of 553 yards on 26 returns for Jacksonville in 1996. He also recorded 64 career tackles on special teams.

Jordan played for the University of North Carolina and head coach Mack Brown from 1989-92. He earned three letters for the Tar Heels rushing for 1,134 yards and nine touchdowns in his career, including 618 yards and seven touchdowns in 1991.

Kirk Olivadotti

Linebackers

13th NFL Season // 13th with Redskins

Kirk Olivadotti was named the Redskins' inside linebackers coach on January 16, 2014.

Olivadotti returned to the Redskins – with whom he spent 11 NFL seasons in various capacities from 2000-10 – in 2014 after three years coaching inside linebackers at the University of Georgia from 2011-13. Olivadotti is one of 11 members of the Redskins' assistant coach honor roll, which recognizes coaches with at least 10 seasons of service as an assistant in Washington.

In his first season back in Washington in 2014, Olivadotti's tutelage helped third-year linebacker Keenan Robinson blossom in his first season as a starter. Despite missing three games, Robinson led the Redskins with 108 total tackles (according to STATS, LLC), including a 14-tackle performance in a win vs. Tennessee in which Robinson earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

At Georgia, Olivadotti coached a linebacker corps that produced NFL draft picks Jarvis Jones and Alec Ogletree. The Bulldogs averaged 10 wins a season in Olivadotti's three years, including ending the 2012 season with a 12-2 record and a No. 5 national ranking.

During Olivadotti's initial 11-season stint with the Redskins, Washington finished in the top 10 in the NFL in overall defense on eight occasions. The Redskins allowed an average of 313.1 yards per game in Olivadotti's 11 years on staff, fourth-fewest in the NFC and seventh-fewest in the NFL in that time frame.

In 2009, he tutored a pair of linebackers to their first Pro Bowl in London Fletcher, who earned his initial trip in his 12th season, and Brian Orakpo, who was one of four NFL rookies selected. Fletcher led the Redskins in tackles with 172 and added two sacks, one interception and 10 passes defensed. He eclipsed the 100-tackle mark for the 11th consecutive season.

Orakpo became the first Redskins defensive rookie to make the Pro Bowl since the 1970 merger. He is only the second Redskins rookie to be chosen, joining kick returner Tony Green (1978). Orakpo finished with 60 tackles, including three for loss, 11 sacks for 76 yards lost, one forced fumble and two passes defensed. He led all rookies in sacks and tied for most among NFC linebackers with Dallas' DeMarcus Ware. Orakpo's 11 sacks finished tied for seventh in the NFL and fourth in the NFC, and set the franchise rookie record, surpassing the previous mark of six by Dean Hamel (1985) and Andre Collins (1990).

In 2008, Olivadotti's linebackers played a pivotal role in Washington ranking fourth overall in yards allowed per game (288.8), sixth in points allowed per game (18.5) and eighth in rushing yards allowed per game (95.4 yards).

The previous year, in Olivadotti's first season as linebackers coach, Washington finished eighth in the NFL in overall defense (305.3 yards per game) and fourth in the league in rush defense (91.3 yards per game). The tandem of Fletcher (156 tackles) and Rocky McIntosh (105 tackles) finished as the team's top tacklers.

Throughout his NFL coaching career, Olivadotti has worked with some of the best defensive minds in the NFL, including Ray Rhodes, Marvin Lewis, Gregg Williams, Greg Blache and Jim Haslett. Olivadotti began his NFL coaching career with the Redskins in 2000 as a defensive quality control coach. He served in that role for four seasons and also helped coach the defensive backs.

He continued as quality control coach in 2004, but also took on a role assisting the Redskins' special teams units. In 2006, Olivadotti's role expanded to working with the Redskins' defensive line.

Olivadotti began his coaching career on the college level, working with wide receivers and tight ends at Maine Maritime for one season (1997). He moved to Indiana State as an assistant coach for two years (1998-99) before making the transition to Washington and the NFL.

Olivadotti was a four-year letter winner as a wide receiver at Purdue from 1993-96. He earned his bachelor's degree in education and his master's degree in education administration, both from Purdue. He is the son of Tom Olivadotti, a long-time defensive coach in the NFL with Cleveland, Miami, Minnesota, the New York Giants and Houston. Kirk and his wife, Keely, have a daughter, Kasyn, and a son, Kruz.

Wes Phillips

Tight Ends

9th NFL Season // 2nd with Redskins

Wes Phillips was named the Redskins' tight ends coach on January 17, 2014.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Phillips guided Niles Paul to a breakout campaign, as the special teams standout became shattered career highs in receptions (39) and receiving yards (507) after entering the season with 14 career catches and 228 career receiving yards to his credit in his first three years in the league. Phillips also oversaw the development of Jordan Reed, who finished third on the team with a career-high 50 receptions in his sophomore campaign.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Phillips spent seven season in various capacities with the Dallas Cowboys. He joined Dallas in 2007 as the club's quality control/offensive assistant coach before relinquishing his role as a quality control coach in 2011 to become the club's assistant offensive line coach in addition to continuing to assist special teams. In 2013, Phillips was named the tight ends coach, helping Jason Witten post the second-most touchdowns in a season in his career (eight).

In 2012, Phillips assisted with an offensive line that helped the Cowboys finish with 5,994 net yards, the third-most in a season in franchise history, and set a single- season club record with 4,729 passing yards despite having Phil Costa, the team's starting center, for only three games. In 2011, the unit integrated new starters at four of the five positions, helping Tony Romo post his third career 4,000- yard season while rookie running back DeMarco Murray established a single-game team rushing record with a 253-yard performance against St. Louis (10/23).

In Phillips' four seasons as Dallas' quality control/offensive assistant coach from 2007-10, the Cowboys' offense posted total yardage numbers ranking in the Top 10 in team history three times, including setting single-season club records in 2010 that included 6,390 yards of total offense – marking the first time a Cowboys team topped 6,000 yards in a season in team history – and 4,287 passing yards. The offense as a whole finished second in the league in total offense, averaging 399.4 yards per game.

Before landing in Dallas, Phillips coached quarterbacks at Baylor in 2006. His work with quarterback Shawn Bell paid dividends as Bell established school single-season records despite missing the final three games with a knee injury.

Prior to his one-year stint at Baylor, Phillips spent two seasons as the quarterbacks coach at West Texas A&M University. The Buffaloes celebrated their most successful season in almost 55 years in 2005, finishing 10-2 to post their first winning season since 1998 and the program's first 10- win season since 1950.

WTAMU won the Lone Star Conference with an 8-1 record, its first league title since 1986 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA D-II Playoffs for the first time in school history. The school led the 2005 Division II ranks in passing offense, racking up 363.8 yards-per-game. He tutored quarterback Dalton Bell, a finalist for the Harlon Hill Trophy, which goes to the top Division II player.

Michigan's defense allowed only 12 touchdown passes, led the Big Ten with 29 takeaways and tied for first in Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) with 20 fumble recoveries.

In 2012, Pleasant was promoted to Assistant Defensive Backs Coach, helping Michigan's total defense (320.0 ypg.) and passing yards allowed (169.5 ypg.) improve to No. 13 and No. 5 in the country, respectively. Following Michigan's 2012 season, Pleasant was one of 30 coaches nationwide invited to the NCAA Future Football Coaches Academy in San Antonio.

Pleasant coached defensive backs at Grand Blanc (Mich.) H.S. in 2010 and was a behavioral specialist/special needs teacher in the Flint (Mich.) Community School District. Dave Ragone

Offensive Quality Control

7th NFL Season // 1st with Redskins

The Washington Redskins named Dave Ragone as an offensive quality control coach on February 26, 2015.

Ragone joins the Redskins with six seasons of NFL experience, including three as an assistant coach for the Tennessee Titans from 2011-13. Ragone spent his first two seasons in Tennessee as the team's wide receivers coach before transitioning to quarterbacks coach in 2013.

In 2012, Ragone oversaw the education of rookie wide receiver Kendall Wright, who led the team and all NFL rookie receivers with 64 receptions. Overall, Wright, Nate Washington and Kenny Britt finished 1-2-3 as the team's leading pass catchers with a combined 155 receptions for 12 touchdowns.

In 2011, Ragone's energy in his first season in Tennessee helped produce career best seasons for four members of his receiving corps. Washington flourished in his seventh NFL season by recording his first 1,000-yard receiving year (74 receptions and 1,023 yards), and Lavelle Hawkins, Damian Williams and Marc Mariani all each set person best receiving numbers.

Ragone joined the NFL coaching ranks after spending one season as quarterbacks coach of the United Football League's Hartford Colonials. Under Ragone, Hartford quarterback Josh McCown led the league in passer rating and touchdown passes.

Ragone spent three seasons as an NFL quarterback from 2003-05 with the Houston Texans after being drafted by the organization in the third round of the 2003 NFL Draft.

In the spring of 2005, he also spent time in NFL Europe with the Berlin Thunder and earned league Offensive MVP honors for his performance. He led the league in passer rating (97.5) and set a league record by throwing 174 consecutive passes without an interception.

Ragone played collegiately at Louisville, where he was a three-time Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year and led his team to three consecutive bowl games. In his sophomore and junior seasons from 2000-01, Ragone won a pair of C-USA Offensive Player of the Year awards as well as a pair of league titles.
